The New Democratic Experiment.

[From the New York Tribune.]

The World, discussing the connection between reconstruction and the choice of Gen. F. P. Blair as Senator from Missouri, cites with approval Blair's recent declaration that he adheres to every word of the Broadhead letter of 1868. For writing that letter originally—or rather for writing what proved to be unpopular—The World proposed to drop Gen. Blair on the eve of the Presidential election. But now, says our cotemporary, the public temper has changed. Then our candidate was trying to row against the current; now the current is with him. "The insane recklessness of the Republicans may render Gen. Blair a very important man. There is a limit beyond which forbearance ceases to be a virtue." If this means anything at all, it means that Frank Blair and The World have struck hands for a new alliance, to try once more the violent and sensational policy which accords so well with the natural tastes of both of them.

The new Senator is not as plain-spoken, however, as his newspaper comrade pretends. In his address the other day before the General Assembly of Missouri he alluded to the Broadhead letter as nothing but a declaration that the President could not be required to execute an unconstitutional law. But it was something much stronger than that. "There is but one way," he wrote, "to restore the Government and the Constitution, and that is for the President-elect to declare these [reconstruction] acts null and void, compel the army to undo its usurpations at the South, disperse the carpet-bag State Governments, allow the white people to recognize their own governments, and elect Senators and Representatives. The House of Representatives will contain a majority of Democrats from the North, and they will admit the Representatives elected by the white people of the south; and with the co-operation of the President it will not be difficult to compel the Senate to submit once more to the obligations of the Constitution." This was as clear a threat of revolution as ever was made, and that The World and the whole country understand it so, the political history of the month of October, 1868, abundantly proves.

Plainly as the proposal was repudiated in 1868, we are not surprised at its being renewed, even though the provocation for it is less than ever before. Frank Blair is a violent, versatile, and able adventurer, with just enough of the fool in his composition to be dangerous to his own party. He has an extraordinary talent for making himself uncomfortable to his friends and serviceable to his enemies. He will be a valuable auxiliary to the Republicans in the Senate, and he can do us a still greater kindness by accepting the World's invitation to become a national leader of the Democracy. Wherever a stupendous political blunder is possible we can depend upon Frank Blair to make it. Nor are the vagaries of the World less startling than those of Mr. Blair. That paper is an adventurer in journalism, just as Blair is an adventurer in politics. It is not the consistent advocate of principles, but a restless speculator, watching the fluctuations of the political market—a bear to-day, a bull to-morrow, always trying to anticipate by just a day or so the changes in the current, and always making a mistake in its calculations. The repudiation of Blair in 1868 was a commercial venture which did not pay. The repudiation of Tweed and Hall was another which likewise failed. They were good newspaper sensations, however, while they lasted; and so long as the World is conducted on the hand-to-mouth principle of "anything for the sake of a noise" we may expect Frank Blair with his visions of revolution, like Tweed with his robbers, and Hall with his corruptionists of the ring, to be alternately taken up and patted, and then thrown down again and kicked.

The First Napoleon's Opinion of Surrenders.

[From the New York Herald.]

It is interesting at this moment, when the world is about to witness one of the most remarkable capitulations which has ever illustrated the changing fortunes of war, to know what was the feeling of the Great Captain whose intellect raised himself and his family from poverty and obscurity to half a dozen of the leading thrones of Europe. The opinions of such a man were important in the highest degree in his own time, which his career so brilliantly distinguished from other historical periods, and in our own day, as well, because its annals have been affected by the result of his achievements. Duroc's idea of him, expressed to Caulaincourt, summed up the general estimate of him by posterity, notwithstanding the bitterness of many detractors: "The greatest captain of the age; a sovereign whose ministers were merely his clerks; a statesman directing the whole business of his country and superintending every branch, yet grasping with facility all the details of private life." In fine, he was endowed with a variety of mental faculties, any one of which was sufficient to distinguish any individual from the multitude.

Such was the man who once, in conversation with General Dupont, who had surrendered with ten thousand men, at Baylen, to the English army under Wellington, could find no words sufficient to denounce the act. "What should a General do," he said, "when his force is in a difficult or doubtful situation? Change it if possible. If he cannot do that he should appeal to its courage and fight, always fight, because in that there is, at least, a chance. But he might be beaten, you say. Well, suppose he were; honor, at least, would remain."

Such is the sentiment of every soldier and every patriot, and the history of our own recent great struggle in America has shown how frequently occasion stood ready to engraft the noblest of causes, had not the determination and energy of our generals

From the nettle "danger" plucked the flower "safety."

The Franco-German war has been marked by many sudden and almost unaccountable surrenders, of which the crushing disaster at Sedan, where 85,000 men with their Emperor-General at their head, gave themselves up en masse, would have been the most conspicuous had not the capitulation of Metz, a regular fortified city, a place of war, with 175,000 men, eclipsed it.

Paris may reasonably yield, in order to save her palaces of trade and her wonderful monuments and treasures of art, history and religion, after having already made a noble resistance; but should the shade of the great Napoleon inspire the pen of future historians there have been some momentous scenes in the war of which we have witnessed all but the closing catastrophes that it will be found difficult to reconcile with martial honor or manly fidelity.

The New York Tribune says: Shrewd political enemies or over-zealous party friends of Gen. Hancock have injured his little chance for the Presidency in 1872 by inducing Senator Sanlsbury to announce his premature nomination as the Democratic standard-bearer in 1872. The strongest aspirant for the White House could not stand such a blow as this. Nominated as the candidate of a defunct party by a politician on the eve of retiring to private life—such a fate is too horrible to contemplate with any thing like Christian serenity.

A few days ago Tweed, the Tammany "Boss," introduced in the New York Legislature a bill that was sent up to him by some Metropolitan Bill Nye, making it a misdemeanor for any person to bring "Chinese or Coolie laborers" into that State under a contract for labor made elsewhere. The Boss said he introduced the bill at the request of some of his constituents, and was "not prepared to say he was in favor of it."

The Paris Figaro says it is reported that the German propositions for peace run thus: The cession of Alsace and Lorraine and portion of the Department of Doubs, and an indemnity of 1,500,000 thalers; the Germans to keep all the materials of war captured, and the French fleet and colonies to remain intact.

Martial Law in Germany.

BERLIN, Feb. 17.—A decree has been issued declaring that, while it is impossible to raise the state of siege, the Emperor, desiring that the electoral movement should be unfettered during the period of election in the provinces of the state of siege, the right of public meetings therein be granted, and he furthermore directs that political prisoners awaiting trial, but without prejudice to the nature of their prosecutions may vote.

The session of the Prussian Diet was closed today by a special message.

England and America.

Proceedings in the French Assembly.

BORDEAUX, Feb. 17.—Favre and Picard arrived here to day. A majority of the committee and Assembly are favorable to the proposal to appoint Thiers chief of the executive power. All elections in the Department of the Seine, were confirmed before the sitting was opened.

In the Assembly to-day, Keller presented declarations bearing the signatures of the Deputies of Bas Rhine and Moselle, protesting in behalf of the inhabitants against separating Alsace and Lorraine from France. The proposal was referred to a committee, who subsequently submitted a report, expressing the strongest sympathy with Alsace and Lorraine, and directing that the declaration be spread upon the records of the Assembly and referred to the French negotiators, when they come to treat with Prussia.

The Assembly conferred the executive powers of the Government upon Thiers.

BORDEAUX, Feb. 18.—Immediately after the vote in the Assembly yesterday, the English, Austrian and Italian Ambassadors officially visited Thiers, and recognized the new French Government.

LONDON, Feb. 18.—In the House of Commons last night, the prevailing tone was that England is weak, and through hesitancy had lost the respect of the belligerents, and invited war for her own existence.

Gladstone recapitulated the negotiations. He believed magnanimity on the part of the Germans would benefit not only France and Europe, but Germany itself. It was certain that neither belligerent now wanted intervention.

MADRID, Feb. 16.—The Spanish elections are to be held on the 8th of March. The Cortes will meet on the 3d of April. A correspondent says elections for deputies to the Cortes will shortly be held in Porto Rico and Cuba.

Relief for Suffering France.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—The French Relief Committee earnestly request editors of [illegible] to give the following appeal circulation. The matter is sent free of charge by the Western Union Telegraph Company.

Mr. Charles Lanier, Treasurer of the Fund for the relief of the suffering population of France, represents subscriptions as follows: Total by Chamber of Commerce, $67,138; Produce Exchange, $15,045. Total, $82,183.

Eugene S. Rollin, Treasurer of the Gold Exchange, acknowledges the receipt of $2,276.

Appeals were made yesterday to the clergy of the country. It is proposed that a simultaneous collection be taken up the second Sunday in March in all the churches in the country for the relief of starving France. It is not sympathy with her cause, but with her distress that animates this appeal. Eight millions of people at least are suffering in winter for want of food and clothing. The neighboring nations, England, Belgium and Switzerland are making generous efforts to relieve their distress. Will America allow distance to stifle the cry of famine in her ears? We know its extent and must hear its moan. As Christians let us show ourselves prompt to recognize the claims of common humanity in a hunger bitten, naked, houseless and homeless people.

It is considered important that this collection should be simultaneous in all churches and on the second Sunday in March, and that all be engaged in one good work. A common prayer for mercy on the famine stricken will go up to God, and a common feeling of sympathy and a commemorative act of helpfulness will unite all churches and thrill heaven and earth. We appeal to pastors of churches to make this request from merchants of New York to effectually show their zeal as Christians. Contributions can be forwarded to Charles Lanier, No. 27 Pine street, New York. Signed Charles H. Marshall, Chairman New York Committee; Charles Lanier, Treasurer; Anson Phelps Stokes, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; Henry W. Bellows, D. D.

An Appeal to Farmers.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—To the Farmers of the Country: One-third of France has been devastated by war, and not only its harvest but its seed wheat consumed. The Committee of the Chamber of Commerce propose to send out as many cargoes of seed wheat to France, to be carefully distributed among the small farmers, as American farmers will supply. We will send vessels if you will find wheat. Three receiving stores are open, at No. 64 Pearl street, No. 38 Water street, and Nos 30 and 32 Moore street. Arrangements are being made for storage, lighterage and loading free of charge. Cannot the noble farmers, who have five or ten bushels to spare, get together and load a car from their own town to send to New York? Free rates of transportation have already been effected by some companies, and we will pay freight on any amount, of one hundred bushels in any one consignment. The call is urgent and the time short. To be useful this wheat must be in France by the 15th of April. Let there be the utmost dispatch in your generous gifts to give seed wheat to starving France. Signed—Charles H. Marshall, Chairman of New York Com.; Charles Lanier, Treasurer; Anson Phelps Stokes, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; Henry W. Bellows, D.D.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 19.—Weather warm and cloudy. No rain, but prospect of immediate rain.

The Japanese Minister and suite left for Washington overland to-day.

The Chinese have had a regular Fourth of July celebration to-day, the explosion of bombs, fire crackers and rockets being incessant from morning till night.

A prominent Western physician, now here, sailed for Santa Barbara Wednesday to examine the old Escondito Springs, five miles from that place, to test their quality, with the view of the erection of an extensive hotel there by Chicago capitalists, making it a first class resort for invalids. Reports of the effects of the climate of Southern California sent back by invalids from the East spending the winter here are so satisfactory, that it is believed a great number will come here another season.

The friends of Hon. J. J. O'Melly, member of the Assembly two years ago and father of the eight hour law, propose to run him for Congress in this District. O'Melly has kept entirely out of politics lately, working hard in the employ of the San Francisco Gas Company, and would make a strong run with the labor organizations.

A circumstance came to the knowledge of the police last night which led to the discovery that the family of a deceased Judge, whose memory is highly honored by the people of this city, were in absolute want of the common necessaries of life.

The Daily Oregonian.

MONDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 20, 1871.

A Badgered "Organ."

The combat deepens. If the utterances of the Democratic papers of this State indicate anything there are irreconcilable differences in the party. The Herald is determined to fight over again the railroad issues of last year, when so terrific an assault was made by it and its backers upon the railway interests of Southern Oregon. Besides, it sets itself up as the party oracle; and this is something that the country papers of the Democratic faith, which possess far more ability and consistency than the Herald, are not disposed to submit to. They can neither brook its folly nor tolerate its arrogance. It were endless to attempt to recite their grievances against the "State organ." The fact is apparent that its course since last March has been such as to continually introduce dissensions in its party. Every question it has touched it has handled with singular maladroitness. Had the enemies of its party hired it to foment discord in its own ranks they would have reason to be delighted with the success it is achieving. Other journals of the party perceive the tendency of its course, and vigorous blows are directed against it from every quarter.

In its issue of the 19th it has another violent attack on Mr. Fay, coupled with a great deal of special pleading against Southern Oregon Railroad interests. True, it professes to be a supporter of those interests, but its course in the matter is like that of certain politicians in Massachusetts on the liquor question, who are described as being strongly in favor of stringent prohibitory legislation, but equally as earnest in their opposition to its enforcement. Thus the Herald professes to [illegible] solicitude for Southern Oregon [illegible] as extremely anxious for [illegible] State to be provided with [illegible] advocates a policy [illegible] a glance must result [illegible] part of the State of all hope [illegible] railway connections for many [illegible] es about "two competing [illegible] one of an extension of the Oregon [illegible]ornia road to the State line, and the [illegible]y a road from the Humboldt by the [illegible]ngna route to Eugene City. It con- [illegible]blication of Senator Williams for [illegible]anging the route of the branch [illegible]ause it to pass through Rogue [illegible] and persists in its censures of [illegible]e as he did in the same behalf [illegible]ent session of the Legislature.

[illegible] requires no great penetration to see, [illegible] branch road is built over the [illegible] it must cut off the Oregon [illegible] road at the head of the Wal- [illegible]lamette and Southern Oregon will have no [illegible] many years to come. That is well [illegible] especially by the people of our [illegible]ern counties, who are most interested in [illegible] at stake, and this is the reason why the [illegible] led as the enemy of southern [illegible]

[illegible] spend space upon the minor [illegible] involved in the general wrangle now [illegible] on among our brethren of the Demo- [illegible]cratic ranks. We leave to the country organs [illegible] the work of badgering the Herald upon the general crookedness, stupidity [illegible] of its course, as judged by the party canons.

Grant for Re Election.

A Central Grant Club has been organized in the city of New York. George Opdyke, [illegible] Darling and many other promi- [illegible] connected with it. Branch [illegible]rganized immediately in all [illegible] Mr. Opdyke was elected [illegible] Central Club. On taking [illegible] the object of the club was [illegible] of ministration of President [illegible] all honorable means to [illegible]" He remarked fur-

[illegible] should we not [illegible]? It is [illegible] due to any other man that our country is indebted for the overthrow of the rebellion and the re-establishment of the Union, and in sooner praise that, it is to him our country is indebted for the highest recent example of mind in party and economy in the administration of affairs. In the face of largely reduced [illegible] by the faithful enforcement of the [illegible] has received more revenue than [illegible] he re-election was made; and by the economies [illegible] economy in public expenditures [illegible] found to be applied to the reduction of the National debt. In addition to this, moderation and good judgment he has secured peace at home and honor abroad without [illegible] or little from the honor of our country. This is the kind of administration [illegible] the kind of statesmanship we [illegible] support, and it is this that the [illegible] Government everywhere—and [illegible] republican—stands ready to [illegible] hearty support. Nay, more, [illegible] this illustration of his [illegible] for administering the Government on its original principle of purity and economy will win from our opponents so many votes as to make his triumph at the coming election even more glorious than the first.

AID FOR SUFFERING FRANCE.—An appeal to the American people for aid for the unhappy people of France who are despoiled by the war, is published in our telegraphic columns to-day. It is written with earnestness, but it does not exaggerate the terrible condition of the French people, nor state too strongly the necessity of action in America for their relief. No doubt there will be a general and generous response throughout the country to this appeal. Of course this is not aid for France as against Germany; it is simply a proposition to aid suffering humanity and alleviate distress. The war, it may be assumed, is over. France committed a grievous fault, and grievously is she answering it. It is now due to humanity to assist her suffering people. Shall any action be taken here in response to this call? Something should be done among us as well as among others.

Hendershott's resolutions "to enable the State of Oregon to have a dead thing on Chinaman," introduced at the recent session of our Legislature, are travelling apace all over the United States. Within a short time we have seen them in the Boston Advertiser, the New York Tribune, the Pittsburg Gazette, and many other papers. It seems, however, to be taken for granted by Eastern journals that Mr. Hendershott is a Republican, for they cannot conceive that any Democratic politician should have in him such a sense of justice as to lead him to employ wit and humor as weapons with which to combat the absurd and cruel prejudices of his party against the so-called inferior races. Mr. Hendershott's resolutions are really making him famous.

After all that the Herald has said during the last two years about Mr. Ben Holladay it does seem rather cool for that paper to call him "an obscure railroad contractor." It has contained about two columns of editorials on him to one on all other subjects, during this whole time; so that if he is "obscure" it must be that that paper has a very limited circulation and is very little read.

Another Shot.

Never was a paper claiming to be a "State organ" in such standing with its party as the Herald is at this time. Its contemporaries of the Democratic press throughout the State without an exception republican it, and hot shot is poured into it from every quarter. The last fusillade is a double volley from the Mountain Democrat and Eugene Guard. We clip from the last named paper, trying to reproduce the extract as nearly as our types will permit.

In the Mountain Democrat we find the following cordial endorsement of the Portland Herald:

Our State exchanges, outside of Portland, are inquiring if the Daily Herald has suspended. As we have only received the weekly for the last three weeks, we would answer in the affirmative. We will also add that the weekly may, so far as we are concerned, as we have no use for it.

The Democratic papers of this State are discovering what consummate fools they proved themselves to be when they gave a patterson their support for the position of State Printer.

The increase of deposits in the Massachusetts savings banks is something remarkable. Official reports show that at the close of the year 1870 there was due to depositors in the savings banks of that State the prodigious sum of $138,232,300, against $57,883,800 in 1863. In the New York saving banks the amount due depositors at the end of the past year was $220,000,000. In California there are $50,000,000 in savings banks. These facts show that there never was before so much prosperity, comfort and wealth among the laboring and producing classes of the country as now. Who cares what croakers and demagogues say, in the face of such facts as these?

OREGON.

Postal Agent Underwood has gone to Cheyenne.

The Eugene Journal has entered on its eighth volume.

The receipts of Applegate's lecture on Mahomet, at Albany, were $90.

A number of butchers from Portland and Puget Sound are now in Eastern Oregon buying cattle.

H. N. George, Esq., is lying very ill at his father's residence in Albany. It is feared he will not recover.

Another vein of coal has been discovered on Coos Bay. It is favorably situated, and $10,000 will open it.

Albany papers publish the list of premiums to be awarded at the Linn county Fair, to be held in Septem[illegible] next.

The settlers of Ochoco valley intend to petition the next Legislature for a new county, to include their section of country.

The recent heavy rains have not extended east beyond the Dalles. Roads toward John Day's river are dry and dusty.

The Farmer has closed its second volume, and next week will appear in an enlarged form, printed on new and smaller type. The progress of the Farmer is an evidence of the prosperity of Oregon.

The Pilot Commissioners of the State of Oregon for the Columbia and Wallamet rivers have duly licensed the following river pilots: G. Read, M. M. Gilman, Philip Johnson, Hiram Brown and Edward Ferclieu.

A reduction of one-half in the rates of ferriage has been announced at Salem. It is supposed that this will greatly increase the trade of Salem from the west side of the Wallamet. Glad to hear of Salem doing so rational a thing.

There was a neck-tie sociable at Salem a few evenings ago. The Statesman says words fail to describe the rush for ties, and the confusion and fun that ensued. Sometimes a contretemps would occur a trifle embarrassing, but as a whole the thing was a success.

Letters have been received at Washington City, complaining because Mr. Mattoon was removed from the office of postmaster at a county post office in Clackamas county, and Z. C. Norton, represented as being an obnoxious Democrat, appointed in his place. On the attention of the Department being called to this transaction by Senator Williams, Mr. Joel Dixon, a Republican, was appointed in the place of Norton.

Mr. A. Myers states that it will require an expenditure of $100,000 to put in operation at Salem the works he contemplates erecting there. He asks for a subsidy from Salem, and a committee of five, consisting of Gov. Grover, J. H. Moores, Werner Breyman, James Martin and J. F. Miller was appointed at a recent meeting of citizens to canvass the city for subscriptions. The subsidy asked for is $10,000. Mr. Myers states that he has been offered inducements to erect the works at Oregon City and also at Jefferson, but he prefers to erect them at Salem.

From the Albany Democrat: We had a call, during the week, from Mr. William Yantis, for merly a resident of Linn county, but recently arrived from Missouri, where he has been sojourning for the past seven years. He says that his father, Rev. J. L. Yantis, will start from Missouri early in the spring, for Oregon, and will probably bring with him quite a little colony of people. Rev. Mr. Yantis was also formerly a resident of this county; and is still the proprietor of a rich farm a few miles from Albany, upon which he designs passing the remainder of his days—being satisfied that the Willamette valley is a more desirable place of residence than even the sacred soil of "Old Missouri."

Among the warrants which the State Treasurer advertises that he is ready to redeem, are some which have been "sealed" by the Penitentiary Commission, and he proposes to pay them as re audited and cut down. The Statesman says: "We confidently anticipate that the Courts will prick this bubble blown up by Democratic legislation, and declare the commission an illegal affair, and pronounce all its acts illegal. We should regret to see all the high judicial aspirations of our friend Bonham put out by such a damper, but it is high time that the humbug pretensions of this Commission should be done away with and set aside, and steps taken to have the business of the State properly transacted. 'Equitable adjustment' and 'repudiation' are synonymous terms with Democracy, but they will answer much better to humbug the masses in a political campaign than for practical operation in State finances." For our own part we are rather gratified that certain Democratic brokers and paper shavers, who voted for "equitable adjustment" last June, are having the benefit of a practical illustration of it.

The Eugene Guard gives the following lecture to the farmers of its county. It should "lay on" again: The fact that our merchants are obliged to send to Portland for produce, or do without, furnishes a subject for reflection. It is rather a sad commentary on the "garden spot of the Pacific Coast." So long as this thing continues the old cry of hard times will be heard in our midst. During the past fall and present winter, potatoes sold readily at 75 cents per bushel, and the market was barely supplied at that figure. Onions have been out of market for some weeks. This section of country is not excelled for the production of apples, thousands upon thousands of bushels being left to rot beneath the trees every year, and yet there are no dried apples to be obtained. The steamer which came up yesterday brought both onions and dried apples to one of our merchants. All this has a tendency to increase the scarcity of money. None should be sent abroad, to enrich the farmers of the lower counties and impoverish our own, for articles that can be produced in abundance at home. The prospects are that there will be an increased demand of all kinds of produce during the next year. Work will, beyond doubt, be commenced on the railroad in the spring, which will in itself increase the demand, to say nothing of the increase in the permanent population, which must be supplied during the first year. Will our farmers make a note of this in time to benefit themselves?

A correspondent of the London Times writes from the headquarters of one of the German armies in France "I have made a great many inquiries about the wounds inflicted by different weapons, and I find that the evidence is, on the whole, to the effect that the chassepot inflicts a more dangerous wound than the needle gun, and is a more effective weapon in every respect."

WASHINGTON FACT AND GOSSIP.

A few days ago Mr Smith of Oregon introduced in the House the amended bill of the Senate in regard to the 500,000 acre land grant belonging to this State It passed the House on the 2d of February and will soon become a law.

The nomination of Thomas I. McKenney, the present Superintendent of Indian Affairs for Washington Territory, for re-appointment, the day after J. J. Hoffman of Portland, had been confirmed for that office, was caused by Mr. Belknap, Secretary of War, who is a relative or intimate friend of McKenney. He was not aware of the movement to dispense with the services of McKenney till it had been accomplished, but took speedy measures to have him reinstated. The nomination has not been acted upon, but will probably be confirmed. Mr. Hoffman is now an applicant for the office of Surveyor General of Montana. So says a Washington letter to the Eugene Journal.

Among the items in the Indian appropriation bill, as recently passed by the House, are the following. Salary of Superintendents for Oregon and Washington, $2,500 each, three agents for Oregon and three for Washington, $1,500 each; four sub agents for Oregon and two for Washington, $1,000 each, twenty one interpreters for Oregon, Washington, Utah, and New Mexico, $500 each. For Calapooias, Molallas and Clackamas, of Willamette valley, $5,500. For confederated bands in middle Oregon, four items, amounting to $13,600. For mixed Shoshones, Bannacks and Sheepeaters, $25,000. For Nez Perces, nine items, amounting to $26,000. For Rogue River Indians, $3,000. For Shoshones, eastern band, $10,000, western band, $5,000; northern band, $5,000, Goship band, $1,000. Shoshones and Bannacks, the former four items, amounting to $18,174, and the latter five items, amounting to $48,437. For Shoshones, Bannacks, and other bands of Idaho and Southeastern Oregon, $40,000 The Umpqua (Cow creek band) $550; Umpquas and Calapooias of Umpqua valley, two items, amounting to $2,450; Walla Walla, Cayuse and Umatillas, four items, $19,700; Yakima nation, ten items, $24,600. For general incidental expenses of the Indian service in Oregon, in addition to the above, $40,000. To survey Grand Ronde Agency, $4,000. For repairs of the same Agency, $2,000.

On Friday, the 27th of January, as we learn from the Eugene Journal's Washington letter, Senator Williams introduced a bill to create a new land district in Washington Territory. The first section provides that all the public lands in the Territory of Washington lying east and north of the following boundaries shall constitute a new land district, to be called the Walla Walla district, to wit: Beginning on the boundary line between the United States and the British Possessions, on the summit of the Cascade mountains; thence southerly along the line established by the first section of the act of May 10th, 1860, entitled "An Act to create an Additional Land District in Washington Territory," to the line dividing township ten and eleven north; thence east to the line dividing ranges nineteen and twenty east; thence south along said line to the Columbia river. The second section authorises the President to appoint by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, or during the recess thereof, and until the end of the next session after such appointment, a Register and Receiver for said district, who shall be required to reside at the city of Walla Walla until such time as the President, in his discretion, may remove the site of said land office from said city, be subject to the same laws, and entitled to the same compensation as is, or may hereafter be, provided by law in relation to the existing land office and officers in said Territory.

Citizens of Bellingham Bay have offered a large area of land to the N. P. R. R. Co., in consideration of getting the "terminus."

An editor got "lammed" at Seattle the other day and his chastiser was fined $25 and costs. Several of the citizens of the place immediately made up the sum in which he had been mulcted, and returned it to him, on the ground that he did right in punishing the editor. Seattle is a "frontier town."

REV. D. K. NESBIT,

Of Corvallis,

On Tuesday Even'g, Feb. 21, 1871,

Subject—"Shodey."

The term "Shoddy" has a peculiar signification in the American people to impolent superiority and brazen-faced assumption; while there is really a vast amount of hollow shams and vulgar snobbery in every department of society.

The Rev Mr Nesbit has therefore chosen a theme unsurpassed for pleasantry or satire, and, from his reputation as a speaker, he will undoubtedly handle the subject in a manner both amusing and instructive

ROORBACKS —As politicians say about election time Look out for Roorbacks," so say we now in regard to railroad and town site matters—look out for roorbacks. The air is loaded with rumors, and one can neither eat nor drink, nor open his mouth to laugh, without danger of swallowing a roorback whole, alive and kicking Close upon the unfounded rumor that the N P Railroad was about to turn a double back somersault out of Kalama alighting at Carroll s, came the rumor that all work had been suspended by the Company at Kalama, except on the sawmill and railroad grade A gentleman who came up Saturday evening says that if any such circus or back action amusements have been indulged in by the Railroad Company, the Kalama public is not aware of it He says that the most ridiculous sensation stories arrive at Kalama from Portland per steamer every day, and if the Kalamans were fools enough to believe the half of them they would be in a terrible state All sorts of rumors some of them silly enough to make a horse laugh are afloat also, in regard to the withdrawal from sale of the lots in Holladay's Addition to East Portland All of which would seem to indicate that somebody has opened a distinct branch of business here, having for its specialty the propagation of unreliable facts and the promotion of uncertainty

STEAMER ITEMS —The steamer Dixie Thompson on the occasion of the excursion to Kalama, on Saturday, made the trip from Portland to the Kalama landing in two hours and fifteen minutes—the quickest time on record

The steamer Vancouver will hereafter run to Freeport on the Cowlitz river, leaving Portland at 8 o'clock A M on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, and stopping at all the way points. She will come up through the slough on Wednesdays and go down through the slough on Thursdays For rates of fare and freight, see new advertisement

The steamer Rescue will make a special trip to Kalama to morrow, leaving Portland at 6 A M and arrive home by 6 P M., affording an opportunity for excursionists to stop two or three hours at Kalama

The steamer Fannie Troup will hereafter make weekly trips between Portland and Monticello, leaving Portland at 8 A M on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Saturdays, and returning on alternate days On the down trip on Wednesdays and the up trip on Thursdays she will go through the Gallamet slough Fare and freight at reduced rates

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION FILED —On Saturday Jacob Kuntz, John Reischer and A S Mason filed articles for the incorporation of the Independent German School Association The estimated amount of property of the Association is $1,000 The objects are to purchase, lease, etc , lands and buildings for school purposes, to establish and maintain in the city of Portland, one or more schools for the education of children and youths The officers and managers of the Association are not less than three nor more than seven trustees Articles of incorporation were also filed by the Oregonian Paper Manufacturing Company. The objects of the company are to manufacture and sell printing and wrapping paper principal office at the city of Portland capital $20,000, shares $100 each incorporators, G T. Myers, W. Lewth waite, D W Williams. The company has leased the mills of H L Pittock & Co , on the Clackamas river

OBSERVER —Just at present the great American mind is agitated and, Kalama, and the rest of mankind, is prodigiously excited about what the railroad people are doing and what they are going to do and in the mean) is getting day and hourly more excited because it can't find out exactly what the matter with railroad affairs is the great conundrum of the day It will be great to effect the North Pacific coast are engaged upon but with what prospects of success we are not prepared just now to state

WITHDRAWN FROM SALE.—Messrs Stitzel & Upton agents for the sale of real estate in Holladay's addition to East Portland, have announced that sales are suspended for the present This action has given rise to a great deal of speculation as to what is in the wind," and the great manufacturing house of Rumor & Co is running under a full head of steam to supply the public inquisitive appetite. Only the lots and blocks situated on the Wheeler tract are withdrawn from sale all others are still in the market

A RIVER STEAMER FROM CALIFORNIA —It is reported that the steamer Annie Stewart, built some years ago at San Francisco, but which has been most of the time laid up under subsidy, has been put on the Columbia river between Portland and Astoria The report says that Capt. Wm. Turnbull is to have command of her The Annie Stewart was built for an opposition boat, and is said to be not only large and elegant, but also a fast sailer

EASTERN OREGON AGRICULTURAL ITEM.—The Walla Walla says As we are about tired of the Oregonian's bash hereafter we shall take the local news of Portland, that we may choose to publish from the columns of the Morning Bul letin instead— Change of pasture makes fat calves"

UPPER COLUMBIA NAVIGATION.—The Oregon Steam Navigation Company will to-day commence receiving freight for Wallula and Umatilla, to be stored at Celilo at risk of the owner until opening of navigation. It is intended to start the steamer from Celilo for a first trip, on Tuesday the 28th inst.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE —Rev Dr. Lindsley, of this city will deliver a lecture before the Good Templars in the hall of Multnomah Lodge, corner of Front and Alder streets, next Friday evening at half past seven o'clock. All are cordially invited to attend. The subject will be announced hereafter

THE WRONG NAME —By some means unknown Mr Myers" as Sheriff of Clackamas county. The facts are all in, we believe, and we are glad to state that Mr. Warner, instead of Mr. Myers, is the Sheriff of that county

MASONIC DISPENSATIONS.—Dispensations have recently been issued by Grand Master Clark, for the organization of two Masonic lodges—one at Hillsboro Grove, Lane county, and one at Pendleton Umatilla county, each taking the name of the place where located

NOT A SUCCESS —A man named Heins was arrested Saturday evening for an attempt to steal a watch He only got away with the belt from the drive wheel, however, and for that little bit of fun he was cruelly toted off to jail to mould till Monday morning.

THE NEXT STEAMER —The steamship Ajax sailed for San Francisco for Portland on Saturday The San Francisco telegraph operator says the passenger list was furnished his office up to the evening, but that he will send it to-day

DANGEROUSLY ILL —Mr Lansing Stout, State Senator from this county, is lying dangerously ill at his residence in this city.

DETAINED —The steamship Idaho was detained at Astoria up to Saturday morning, by stress of weather

STEAMBOAT MATERIAL.—The O S N Company received, on Saturday, some material from below

AMUSEMENTS.

ONE FINE THEATER —Miss Lee Hudson's engagement closed Saturday evening with a full house She played two weeks to a fine business, the houses averaging larger than for any two weeks during the entire winter To-night the Emerson Minstrel Troupe will make their first appearance They have been engaged for the week.

GERMAN PATRIOTIC AID SOCIETY'S BALL.—The ball to be given in aid of the German Patriotic Aid Society of Portland, will take place at Turn Verein Hall this evening The hall has been nicely decorated, an excellent band has been engaged, and every necessary preparation has been made to render the affair pleasant to the guests and remunerative to the society

GERMAN FAIR —We learn that the German ladies of this city have contributed a great number of articles to aid the German Patriotic Aid fund, and that some time within the next week a Fair will be held at Turn Verein Hall, to convert these contributions into available funds

OR
RHEUMATIC CURE.

HISTORY:

THIS REMEDY IS COMPOSED OF THE ACTIVE principle of the Unk Weed, Eng —Thaspium, Cordatum Origanius, Lat —Indigenous to Oregon—Grows most abundantly and perfectly in Washington county

PROPERTIES, &c:

It contains an active volatile principle extracted by Ether and a bitter Tonic principle.

Medical Properties and Uses:

It is the most Sure and Speedy Cure for Rheumatism, Rheumatic Gout and Rheumatic Pains of all kinds that has ever been introduced in the Materia Medica The Unk Weed Remedy as prepared by us in consequence of the existing bitter principle, possesses the necessary virtue of being a POWERFUL TONIC!

Promoting the Appetite and Invigorating the whole Digestive Apparatus, thus building and strengthening the system while at the same time the volatile principle, being absorbed in the blood acts specifically on the Rheumatic Poison, removing it from the circulation and system

There are few remedies known to the Medical profession, which will remove the Rheumatic poison from the blood but whose action is so powerful in depressing the system of the already enfeebled Rheumatic patient that their use has to be abandoned before specific effects are obtainable Hence the want of success in treating this prevalent and in consequence, heretofore incurable disease Unlike these Medicines, already known, the

"Unk weed Remedy"

Though producing as powerful and as active effects on the blood and system in removing the Rheumatic Poison, also possesses a strong Tonic and recuperating element, which admits of its continued use even in the most delicate and debilitated Thus we have the combination for the first time of these two necessary elements in the one remedy, which accounts for its superior and never failing curative effects in

POLLY McINTIRE

From the Iowa Gazette

Mrs Polly McIntire of Canot Winneshiek county Iowa was burned to death a few days since She was over one hundred and fourteen years old having been born September 8 1756 in New Brunswick N J She was married at the age of twenty four then to Mr McIntire and lived with him to the age of seventy five her last husband being much younger than herself and surviving her Her appetite continued good until the time of the accident which caused her death and her eye sight was such that she was able to read fine print without the aid of her glasses and her hearing was as good as the average of her sons, at seventy five During the past summer she was able to walk quite a long distance, and on Christmas day, having been invited out, she entertained the company with a song and story. The next day she was insane and three or four days afterward, on being left alone, her clothes took fire with fatal result

DEATH OF A VENERABLE LADY IN SYRACUSE

From the Syracuse Journal Jan 16]

The death of Mme Mary Harrod Greenough one of the eldest, although a recent resident of this city, deserves more than a passing notice Mme Greenough was the relict of Wm Greenough, the largest publisher of school Bibles prior to the establishment of the Bible Societies publications and the first printer of fine editions of books in this country She was one of the small band of survivors of the era of the Revolution and she retained a vivid personal recollection of the most prominent actors therein among whom she was associated from her earliest infancy Several of the officers of the Revolutionary army where her father s personal friends among whom was an uncle of hers, Sam el Treat who had command at Dunkirk below Philadelphia, where he was killed during an attack by the English

younger than herself mar[ried] Adams, son of John Adams, one of the active revolutionists and [a] signer of the Declaration of the United States that she was [a] witness in the great revolution the first years of our [na]tional existence Her memory for dates was marvelous up to a very late period of her life

A VERY OLD MAN

From the Nashville Union]

In Wayne county there is now living a man named David Rally, who, though over one hundred and fifteen years of age, is still in the habit frequently walks a distance of four miles to visit his nearest neighbors resided in Wayne county for many years and has always led an active life It is said that he never took a regular dose until within the past few years a great hunter, and has probably killed many wild cats, bears and other animals In his younger days any man now living in the neighborhood hunting, he has spent a great deal of his time gathering chestnuts and persimmons probably a hunter and trapper the greater portion of his life Mr Rally never owned a horse, saying that he had no use for one, and that he preferred to have a dog than a horse. He is the father quite a large family of children, all of whom have followed their father s business We have obtained the above from a highly reliable gentleman who has been a quainted with Mr Rally for a long number of years

THE PRESS AND THE BAR —We publish in full the correspondent that David Dudley Field and Hon Samuel Bowles, editor of the Springfield (Mass) Republican They found a little differing about their respective professional duties and have exchanged observations thereabout. The correspondence is highly interesting and not wanting in importance A New York letter appeared in the Republican reflecting upon the professional conduct of David Dudley Field, in using his influence in the courts in behalf of Fisk and Gould and others who have profited by a misuse of managing railroads Mr Bowles is the editor of the Republican and the editor replied regretting many expressions, but endorsing the professional conduct of Field had it not been for friendship he would himself have more sharply and he enclosed a telegraph in which he had been [ad]dressed I grew instantly indignant, [and] becomes spicy, Mr David Dudley Field We have read the letters, with reasonably sure that the public will be pronounced that the editor had the advantage of the lawyers, [de]al with their profession assume a right to take large fees for the help [they] give us to plunder the public, and I say the press has a right to speak of conduct in terms of censure, or even to [ri]dicule their proceedings at all The tone of the lawyers in the correspondence is superciliously [co]mmanding and that of irritation rising from [wo]unded pride The editor commands his temper perfectly and his serenity must have been seriously offensive to his angered antagonists

A DOMESTIC STORY —An editor says An aunt of ours concluded to try the effect of a pleasant smile and a kind word upon her husband when he returned from his work She had read how a home should be pleasant, and the wife should always meet her husband with a joyful smile The success she had is best given in the shape of the dialogue

[Enter husband, almost exhausted, and very hungry withal throws his hat on the floor and drops heavily into a seat Wife, preparing tea looks up with a smile and is so glad to see him]

Wife—Well my dear, it is so nice to have you here at meal time [A long smile]

Husband—Yes I suppose so

Wife—How has your business prospered to-day [Another smile]

Husband—About so-so

Wife—Come my dear, supper is ready, let me draw your chair [Another smile]

Husband, gruffly—I am too tired to stir Wait till I warm my feet

Wife—Do as you choose my dear [Another smile]

Husband—Look o here, old woman, before any more fuss is made about it, I should like to know what you are grinning at

Aunt sighed and relinquished her sweet smiles from that day Uncle was not one of the romantic sort and didn t understand such things

SHEET AND PILLOW CASE PARTIES —A Minnesota paper says

Duluth introduced sheet and pillow case parties last week at the residence of Geo C Stone Esq The uniform for ladies consisted of a pair of white stockings drawn over their shoes a nightgown over their dresses a white sheet thrown over their shoulders shawl fashion white gloves on their hands, a white handkerchief, tied toothache fashion around their heads a pink cambric mask over their face and a pillow case tied over their heads in the same manner in which housewives tie handkerchiefs over their top-pieces while sweeping a dusty room The costume of gentlemen was similar to the above with the exception of white shirts instead of night gowns, and the addition in some instances of pantalets drawn over the pantaloons

Jay Cooke, of Philadelphia early in his career read Gold and the Gospel and resolved to take Jacob s pledge, "Of all that I know shall give me I will surely give the tenth unto Thee He directed his clerk to open an account with O P J (Old Patriarch Jacob) and to credit to it one tenth of all the commissions that came into the office

At one of his lectures George Francis Train shouted Now then, anybody can ask me questions' And a crazy Nancy got up and said Mr Train I would like to know what makes a pot leg always burn in two in the middle The great American traveler was nonplussed He was not familiar with the phenomenon

AMELIA CITY BAKER CO

ED DEMOCRAT —In reply to Mr Ison s letter in your issue of December 1st 1870 concerning the Amelia resolutions I will say it is false from first to last so far as the allegations he makes against me are all concerned "To begin" He was perfectly well aware of the fact that I was acting as Recorder in Eastern Mining District and addressed me a letter bearing date Baker City October 3d 1870 (if you call that quite recently) and I immediately on receipt thereof forwarded all records in my possession or in this office not recorded in the County Clerk s office, with his proportionate amount of fees ($25) for which I have his receipt If he claims I was not a legal Recorder, why did he receive and receipt for the $25? But according to the statute of the State of Oregon an officer holds over until his successor is elected and qualifies or is otherwise legally removed November 25th Mr Ison writes You need not act any longer in the capacity of Recorder, and if you have any records in your possession belonging to the District please keep them subject to my order or give them to I C Haemer, and refer all applicants to me by mail As for him being misrepresented no such thing He was represented by his own letters with his own signature appearing He further demanded of me 25 cents on each record more than custom ers by the former County Clerk This did not suit the miners in the district and they proceeded to elect a Recorder regardless of the Clerk As for making the meeting a political, Republican move—no such thing I am requested by the weak minded Democrats (as Mr Ison calls them) connected in the formation of the resolutions to state that they were the sole instigators of the move I think the only display of weakness they have made during the year was when they voted for Mr Ison to fill the office he is now trying to fill In conclusion, I will say his entire reply to the Amelia resolutions shows more the weakness of a vain ambition than the talent of an educated man

W J EASTABROOKS

ED OREGONIAN —I offered the foregoing letter to the editor of the Hedrock Democrat for publication in vindication of false allegations made against me by one L P Ison, County Clerk of Baker county, through the columns of the above named one horse, contemptible, secession God forsaken Democratic organ of Baker county The editor thereof informed me his charge for publishing my communication would be $10 which amount was duly paid, after the expiration of about three weeks' time the stated amount was returned with a letter stating "After more mature reflection, I conclude not to publish your reply to Mr Ison M H Abbott" The fact of the matter is simply this The Baker City Ring (so-called) did not wish the citizens of Baker county to know the character of the man they have "trying" to serve them as County Clerk

W J. EASTABROOKS

Linus T Throop is living, at the age of 86 He was Governor of New York before 1815 in which year he took a seat in Congress He was a man of great ability and high promise but with the exception of a term of service as a Circuit Judge, has remained in obscurity from that time to this because he voted in favor of increasing the salaries of members of Congress, then $6 per day while sitting, to $1 500 per year The Cayuga people are now loyally in favor of $5,000 per year and mileage

Jenkins undertook to quote poetry in praise of woman but got his authors slightly mixed, as follows

Oh woman in our hours of ease
Uncertain coy and hard to please,
But seen too oft familiar with her face
We first endure then pity, then embrace
